

E-invoicing in the U.S.

New Growth Opportunity For Your Business

Currently the B2B payments industry in the United States is severely challenged by inefficient and costly manual processes. That is why the DBNAlliance, with support from various industry bodies, has recently launched a brand new open exchange network. This network enables a secure and efficient exchange of B2B e-invoices and e-documents for companies in the United States.

Through a set of standards and policies, the Exchange Framework allows businesses to connect once, and share electronic invoices with one another, regardless of the platform, system, application or network used for processing invoices.

Why become a service provider of the DBNAlliance?

Being one of the first DBNAlliance service providers, your company will be seen as an authority in this new e-invoicing landscape.

Not only will your connection help with the adoption of e-invoicing in the United States, it will also bring an opportunity to serve many companies and grow your business significantly.
